YESTERDAY was a queer day for even March. Snow fell in the morning to the depth of an inch or more. A thaw immediately succeeded and made the streets very muddy. Altogether things made a very unpleasant day.

FALSE ALARM OF FIRE.—Yesterday FALSE ALREM OF FIRE.—Yesterday afternoon while the sexton of the Centre Wheeling Lutheran church was trying the new bell recently put up in the church, some persons, taking the ringing for an alarm of fire, repeated the alarm. For awhile the excitement was getting up, and at least one engine was brought out, but the mistake was soon discovered, and everything put to rights several months past there has been a congregation of spiritualists in Bridge port. The number was originally small, but they have been constantly small, but they have been constantly on the increase. The congregation recently rented a room in McNeeley's hotel, and employed the Rev. L. Sattliff, of Ravenna, Ohio, to address them on the subject of, and in defence of the doctrines of spiritualism. Mr. Sattliff delivered a series of addresses—nine in number—concluding last night with one to young men on the subject of intemperance. Mr. Sattliff maintains that the religion of Christ and his followers is inadequate to the wants of the present day, and that the spiritualists supply the true doctrines for modern Christians. He is said to be a fine and interesting speaker, and has nightly drawn a large house. The congregation design, we understand, continuing their labors, and will secure other divine to deliver another course of esternos or lectures. divine to deliver another cours of sermons or lectures.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE CHOLEBA IN BRIDGEPORT, OHIO .- The authorities of Bridgeport are making full prepara-rations for the cholera. The Town Council has appointed a Board of Health, or Sanitary Committee, who have issued the following address to the citizens of Bridgeport and Kirkwood. The citizens generally, we understand, are BOOTS & SHOES, arousing in the matter of preparation, and are making exertions to ward off an attack of the dreaded disease: To the Residents of Bridgeport and Kirk-Fellow Citiens: "The pestilence that walketh in darkness, the destruction that wasteth at noonday," hangs like a cloud of death around our borders, ready, we fear, to burst upon us. We know not what community may receive the first shock, and it behooves us to avert the threatening calamity, if practicable.

By authority of the Town Council we are constituted a Board of Health to devise such means as will insure us, if possible, against Cholera. In the discharge of this duty we earnestly appeal to every citizen to anticipate the appearance of the fell destroyer among us—by cleaning up your cellars, sewers, drains and premises generally—removing therefrom every thing noxious, filthy or offensive, or that can in any manner, render the air impure. And, to insure still further success, we advise thorough whitewashing of your dwellings—to scatter lime in the various recesses about your buildings and yards, privies particularly; and in every waydo what is necessary to render your homes free of deadly influences—in short, make all your surroundings neat and clean.

in short, make all your surroundings neat and clean.

Then the streets and alleys adjoining you must be cleaned of all mud, filth and garbage; and everything in shape of muisance removed—your sinks all well limed. We say these things must be done and constantly kept so. We would suggest that all filth, mud and refuse matter be collected in heaps in front of your dwellings, for easy and effectual removal beyond the limits of town. We further request any one knowing of any offensive matter within the precincle of the town, at any time during the approaching summer, to notify any one of us of the fact.

We, lastly, implore you all, as good citizens, to give us your co-operation in this enterprise, and as you value your lives to give heed to our warning.

In exercise of the authority vested in us, we will see that the foregoing regulations are strictly compiled with.
